National Volunteer Week

At Home In Darien holds luncheon

In recognition of National Volunteer Week, At Home In Darien would like to recognize their volunteers who selflessly donate their time and talents to keep Darien seniors connected to the community and to maintain their independence.

Volunteers are an important part of the organization:

Every caring and dedicated volunteer is essential to the mission.

Last year, volunteers (shoppers, visitors, drivers, helpers, leaf rakers and snow shovelers of public sidewalks) provided 1,707 hours of hands on direct service for Darien seniors.

At Home In Darien volunteers are at the heart of Darien's caring community.

Without their services, Darien would be less the vibrant multi-generational community that it is. National Volunteer Week is an opportunity to publicly applaud the volunteers Darien values and appreciates all year long.

At Home In Darien is a non-profit 501 (c) 3 organization whose mission is to help older adults in Darien to live independently, comfortably and with dignity in their own homes for as long as possible.
